Subject: Two topics - KCRG-TV9

Good morning, Sgt. Frank-

Two things I want to get interviews for, one of them we've talked about, one of them just came across my desk not too long ago.

First was related to expanding staffing related to investigations. I know we had talked about doing the story and setting something up last week, but I've been out of the Iowa City office so I haven't had a chance to send you a message any sooner. I'm hoping somebody could talk about the increased staffing and the reasons behind it. Obviously this would tie into the five-month anniversary of the JoEllen Browning case, where many people are still waiting a verdict.

Second- someone sent me an article related to the ICPD partnering with the Ring video doorbell service about potentially getting surveillance video. Some people are concerned about the privacy issue, but I know CRPD did something similar not too long ago to help with any potential investigations or alleged crimes. Wanted to see if you could do a quick interview about that new relationship and what you guys at ICPD are hoping to accomplish. Should be quick and straightforward on this topic.

Give me a call back or reply back here, hopefully we can get the second topic done today, at least, but if someone's got time to knock the first one out today too, let's do it.

Thank you.

-Aaron

Hi Sgt. Frank,

I'm writing a story about the police department partnering with Ring doorbell camera software firm. I was at a neighborhood association meeting for the South District this summer when Capt. Brotherton talked about the software and how residents can choose whether or not they share video with the police.

It would be great to talk to someone from the police department about the partnership and how it's used to keep the community safe.

Is there someone available to meet and talk this week?

Thank you,

[REDACTED] saw the direction she was going and went after her. She finally stopped. She handed him her insurance papers and took off saying she's late to pickup her kids. Now she is denying everything. Anyone in the area of Hwy 1 W - US6 (S Riverside Dr) September 3 Tuesday 4:00 PM we need a witness! Thank you, Susan. I put the check in the mail.

The City withheld parts of the requested records by printing out and then scanning the printouts of the records, effectively making the records analog. Specifically, we have not received the hyperlinks embedded in some of the emails, and some of the attached images and documents are only partially visible or are of a very low resolution in the printouts.

I respectfully request that the City provides us with the withheld information by sending the original digital records of the following emails in the .eml format (<https://www.loc.gov/preservation/digital/formats/fdd/fdd000388.shtml>), and all of the associated email attachments in their original formats, to team@stopbigbrother.org:

Subject: Ring Doorbells

Mr. Frank,

I read with interest the article about the ICPD collaborating with Ring Doorbells in the Press Citizen this morning. Much of the article seemed to be addressing privacy concerns, which are important.

I have another concern that I did not see addressed. Ring Doorbells cost anywhere between $100 and $200, plus, for many, the cost to have it installed. That puts them monetarily out of reach for all those in this city who financially struggle. Is a struggling family going to choose food on the table or a Ring Doorbell? Many landlords may advertise their use to attract potential renters, but the landlords in the poorer parts of town, who already have a lower profit margin, are not going to install them.

So where does this disparity leave things? The article stated that no one could tell who had installed, apparently trying to cover this problem. But after looking online at a variety of these doorbells I could see that none of them looked like my regular old doorbell. They all have a very similar look, which means it will be quite easy to see who has one and who does not.

Individuals in our community who plan to commit a crime will gravitate to the lower income areas because there will be less of a chance of being caught. Once there, more spontaneous criminal events will occur. You are already dealing with policing problems and community confidence in some of these areas. Is this what the ICPD wants?

The article also stated that in some places there has been criticism about police departments assisting in the purchase of these doorbells. This, again, seems to only address privacy issues and not the equality of safety. I suggest the city implement a rebate system that would not favor any certain brand nor usage requirements, much like buying energy efficient appliances used to be. Maybe the ICPD can think of a better way.

I hope you will do something. It stinks of disparity.

Sincerely,
Martha Shaw

Thanks for getting back to me, are you available to talk tomorrow morning perhaps at 9:15? If not, what other time works for you?

Also, I'm not sure if you're capable of gathering this information, but it would be great to get some figures as well, such as:

1. How many times the department has asked for video surveillance
2. How many users have provided video/how many haven't provided video
3. How many users the department has made contact with
4. What were the types of incidents the police department was seeking information/surveillance about? For example, "suspicious person" or "stolen package" etc.

Thank you for your time,

Hi Sgt. Frank,

I'm writing a story about the police department partnering with Ring doorbell camera software firm. I was at a neighborhood association meeting for the South District this summer when Capt. Brotherton talked about the software and how residents can choose whether or not they share video with the police.

It would be great to talk to someone from the police department about the partnership and how it's used to keep the community safe.

Is there someone available to meet and talk this week?

Aleksey:

Paragraph 7 of your Sept. 3 letter requested "records concerning ... requests for video footage ... initiated by the ICPD...." The records concerning requests were provided. See page 82 of the pdf previously provided identified as "Gurtovoy open records 1."

I am treating your Sept. 25 email as a new open records request that requests the video footage itself. Video footage that the City may be able to access through the "Neighbors Portal Features" is not a public record as defined in Section 22.1(3)(a) of the Iowa Code. Such video footage is not "other information, stored or preserved in any medium, of or belonging to" the City.

Following the request contained in page 82, the City did download one video for purposes of the investigation. Because the video has been downloaded, it is a public record. However, it is a confidential public record under Section 22.7(5), which provides that peace officers' investigative reports as part of an ongoing investigation are confidential. Because it is a confidential public record, the City is not providing the video footage.

Hi Susan,

7. All records concerning, related to, or mentioning requests for video footage issued, sent or otherwise initiated by the ICPD through Ring's platform, products, services and/or apps, including but not limited to the number, frequency and geographic area of the requests.

with the terms "records" defined as all records or communications preserved in written or electronic form, including but not limited to correspondence, documents, data, video recordings, audio recordings, faxes, files, emails, text messages, guidance, guidelines, evaluations, instructions, analyses, memoranda, agreements, notes, orders, policies, procedures, protocols, reports, rules, orders, practices, technical manuals, training manuals, or studies.

According to the Ring's "Neighbors Portal Features" PDF (attached) obtained as a part of the requested records, the City has access to the video footage requests issued, sent or otherwise initiated by the ICPD through Ring's platform, products, services and/or apps, but has withheld the associated records without explanation.

Subject: RE: open records request

Hi Susan,

As it's the case with many electronic formats, email carries a lot of information that is lost when an email message is printed on paper.

For example, attached ("Sue Dulek-09-19-2019.pdf") is your reply to me that I printed on a physical sheet of paper, scanned and saved as a PDF image — the same process that the City subjected the electronic records that we specifically requested to receive in electronic format. You can't tell from the printout, but:

1. Your email originated from a server named CityMail12.civic.iowa-city.org with the IP address of 10.160.50.20 that is running Microsoft SMTP Server with the MAPI ID 15.01.1591.017, and is protected by a secure email gateway from Mimecast;
2. It was sent using 128-bit TLS 1.2 cryptographic protocol, and took 6 seconds to deliver;
3. Your email was created on 9/19/2019 at 1:35:24 PM CDT, has been assigned a message ID 6bf439228f044340a1a806a0eaabc6de@iowa-city.org, was sent as a reply to a previous email message with message ID 5d8134d6e40a2b4c02000015@polymail.io and has a thread index AdVswYf8maMat1tqSmGyG7J9qE/ksQA/j7gAAFZJLPA=;
4. The scanned PDF image you attached to your email, "8-21-19 Logan email attachment.pdf", was produced using Konica Minolta Bizhub C454e multifunction printer/fax/copier/scanner on Thu, 19 Sep 2019 18:34:57 GMT, modified on Thu, 19 Sep 2019 17:34:14 GMT, and has a size of 19,515 bytes.

I know all of this because I was able to examine your email message in its native electronic format. The attached PDF image of the corresponding email printout does not contain any of this information. By converting the requested electronic records in a readily accessible electronic format to a PDF image of an analog printout, the City has withheld record metadata that:

1. By any reasonable definition is a part of the requested records; and
2. Is crucial for confirming the source and authenticity of emails, reliably organizing emails into threads, and verifying the completeness of the released records archive.

Also attached ("Ring's Party at IACP.pdf") is a PDF scan of an analog printout of an email message the City released to us as a part of this open records request. Among other information, the original email contains an embedded HTML link tagged with the text "Event Details". The analog printout contains the image of the text, but the link itself has been lost. Thus, by converting the requested electronic records in a readily accessible electronic format to a PDF image of an analog printout, the City has withheld HTML links embedded in the emails that:

1. By any reasonable definition are a part of the requested records; and
2. Are a crucial piece of any electronic communication.

Last but not least, also attached ("Ring marketing graphics.pdf") is a PDF scan of a printout of an email attachment also released to us as a part of this open records request. This attachment is an image that was too large to fully fit on a physical sheet of paper, and therefore only a part of the image is visible in the printout. A part of the image is not the same as the whole image. It's impossible to know what information has been cut out from the printout. Thus, by converting the requested electronic records in a readily accessible electronic format to a PDF image of an analog printout, the City has withheld a part of the requested information.

I hope the above clarifies the matter. I respectfully repeat our request that the City provides us with the withheld information by sending us the electronic records I enumerated, including all of the attachments, in their electronic, readily accessible format as prescribed by Chapter 22 of the Iowa Code.

With regards to your statement that "According to the IT Dept., the City does not have emails in .eml format", a step-by-step guide on how to export .eml files from Microsoft Office 365 is available here:
<https://www.codetwo.com/kb/export-email-to-file/#outlook-on-the-web>

Alternatively, the City can deliver the requested emails in the MSG format that is native to Microsoft Outlook. A step-by-step guide on how to export .msg files from Microsoft Outlook is available here:

Thank you, Susan. I put the check in the mail.

The City withheld parts of the requested records by printing out and then scanning the printouts of the records, effectively making the records analog. Specifically, we have not received the hyperlinks embedded in some of the emails, and some of the attached images and documents are only partially visible or are of a very low resolution in the printouts.

I respectfully request that the City provides us with the withheld information by sending the original digital records of the following emails in the .eml format

Hi Susan,

Thank you for elaborating. I appreciate the time that went into reviewing these records.

I'm also not viewing the requested fee as punitive, but I do disagree with your characterization of emails as not "readily accessible" simply because you had to review them for redactions. The Iowa Code clause I cited is specifically formulated to prevent charging a requestor for unnecessary record conversions and/or copies. Under your interpretation, that clause would become meaningless because a government agency always has to review requested records before it releases them, therefore no records can be considered "readily accessible." The technological means to review and redact emails electronically are mainstream and are just as straightforward as the paper route. The City chose to do the review using the paper route in direct contradiction of the aforementioned clause and contrary to our original request, and now the City is asking us to bear the cost of that decision.

I understand that this might be simply how the City has always done it, but that doesn't make it a conforming practice. With that in mind, I'd like to respectfully ask the City to waive the requested paper copies fee.

Thanks again,

Aleksey

The emails are not readily accessible. If you were requesting a copy of a consultant agreement and if I had it in pdf form, I would email it to you at no cost. In contrast, your request was very broad.

The IT search for emails turned up many emails that were not responsive. For example, they included emails about the theft of a "ring," a lost "ring," give me a "ring," and a contractor with a surname of "ring."

I printed off all responsive emails and then reviewed them. I reviewed them to see if there were emails subject to the attorney-client privilege or any information in an email string that was confidential and needed to be redacted. While there was no need for redaction here, with such broad requests it is not unusual to find confidential material in the same email as non-confidential responsive material. For example, the Chief emails an officer reminding him of the conference call with the Ring rep at 2:00 tomorrow and then adds—how's the investigation coming on John Doe.

In addition, the City's open records policy allows for assessing attorney review time for determining whether confidential documents are included within the request at the hourly rate, not including benefits, of the reviewing attorney. I have not assessed any fee for my time.

Hi Susan,

Could you elaborate on the rationale for the the print and scan step, and can we skip it? It sounds somewhat unreasonable. For one, the "print and scan" step would impede the searchability of requested records, which are electronic to begin with. If you prefer to deliver the emails in a PDF format, the technological ability to save them directly to PDF is pretty mainstream and does not incur the cost of physical printing.

Last but not least, Chapter 22 of the Iowa Code, Examination of Public Records specifically says (my emphasis):

§ 22.3A, subsection 2, paragraph d:

An electronic public record shall be made available in the format in which it is readily accessible to the government body if that format is useable with commonly available data processing or database management software.

.eml format for exported email (<https://www.loc.gov/preservation/digital/formats/fdd/fdd000388.shtml>) is supported by all mainstream email clients, is usable and readily viewable on all major operating systems, and would be our first preference.
